CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT

EE
(LOCAL)

DEVELOPMENT OF CORE CURRICULUM

Curriculum changes, for the most part, are initiated at the faculty level. Faculty and division chairpersons develop and revise curriculum. Division chairpersons present the recommendations of the division faculty to the appropriate dean who, in turn, presents the information to the Vice-President for Instruction. The Deans' Council then reviews the recommendations for curriculum revisions.

Before final approval, the curriculum changes are reviewed and considered by the Curriculum Committee which is composed of faculty and administrators. After review and approval of the Curriculum Committee, the new or revised curriculum is implemented. If changes are major, they are presented to the College President for final approval.
