

TVCC ADULT & CONTINUING EDUCATION OFFERS

Mirror Course

MEXICAN-AMERICAN HISTORY I with David Powell

A survey of the economic, social, political, intellectual, and cultural history of Mexican Americans/Chicanx. Periods include early indigenous societies, conflict, and conquest, early European colonization and empires, New Spain, the early revolutionary period, Mexican independence and nation-building, and the United States expansion to the United States-Mexico War Era. Themes to be addressed are mestizaje and racial formation in the early empire, rise and fall of native and African slavery, relationship to early global economies, development of New Spain's/Mexico's northern frontier, gender, and power, missions, resistance and rebellion, the emergence of Mexican identities, California mission secularization, Texas independence, United States' wars with Mexico, and the making of borders and borderlands.

Meet the Instructor: David Powell

My name is John David Powell. I studied philosophy and creative writing at Miami University and law at the University of Texas. I received a Ph.D. in history from SMU, where I concentrated on legal history, the history of Mexico, early American history, and the history of the Southwest. I lived and studied in Mexico for two years, where I learned Spanish, taught English at a Mexican university, and studied the history of Mexico and Mexican law in Guadalajara. I have three children. I enjoy teaching several subjects at TVCC—U.S. history, Mexican American history, and U.S. and Texas Government.
